Our Executive Team

William Conway, President & CEO, CHA

A veteran to the hotel industry, Bill Conway leads SharCon with over 35 years of experience. Bill has been the driving force behind SharCon since forming the Management and Development Company in 1990. Since its formation, SharCon has successfully owned and operated multiple hotels across the Mid-Atlantic region, showcasing Bill's proven record of rehabilitating run-down hotels and revitalizing pride and opportunity among the staff and communities they serve.

He has a strong desire to facilitate growth from within SharCon. He developed a mentor program that promotes the core values of the company, a program which has enabled the successful development of many of SharCon's longtime employees, landing them into the Senior Leadership roles they hold today.

Bill remains active in the community and local hospitality industry by serving as a member of the Advisory Committee for the Hotel/Motel Management Curriculum for Montgomery College in Maryland and Vice Chairman of the Board of Directors for the Economic and Development Board in Ward 5 of Washington, DC. He is also a past member of the Board of Directors for Prince William, Greater Manassas, Virginia Chamber of Commerce and past Chairman of the Board of Directors for Howard Johnson International.

Rocky Conway, Senior Vice President

A legacy since birth, Rocky Conway has served SharCon for over 20 years building his career and reputation in the hotel management business. Having held several positions within the company including sales, marketing, operations and the management of several properties in SharCon's portfolio, Rocky's largest accomplishments are in the success of otherwise run-down hotels. Rocky has an eye for seeing potential in bankrupt properties where other hotel management companies have no interest. He has successfully revitalized dozens of hotels thus achieving 150% market share on all properties that SharCon manages.

Colin Byrne – Chief Financial Officer

Colin oversees the accounting and financial functions for all properties in the SharCon portfolio. He is responsible for producing and managing accounting processes, including budget and internal controls that ensure financial statements and reports are accurately completed and distributed in a timely manner. Prior to SharCon, Colin was the Chief Financial Officer for Keolis North America where he was responsible for implementing and overseeing all financial, accounting, treasury, tax and insurance activities. Colin earned his Bachelor's Degree in Economics from University College Dublin and his Master's in Business from the Michael Smurfit Graduate School of Business, Dublin

Our Executive Team

Shawnette James, Vice President Sales & Marketing

Shawnette has successfully served SharCon in a variety of positions for the past several years. Beginning as pre-opening General Manager of the Holiday Inn Express Hotel & Suites in Washington DC, she progressed into other management roles including Director of Sales, Area Manager and Regional Sales Trainer for the company's limited and full service properties. Shawnette's responsibilities in this role include the day-to-day operations of the company as well as sales and marketing performance. She oversees the limited service portfolio budget in excess of $15,000,000 dollars annually in her territories which include DC, Virginia and Maryland.

Sarah Lovejoy, CHS, E-Commerce and Group Sales Manager

With over 15 years' experience in the hospitality industry, Sarah began her career as a front desk agent before transitioning into sales at a full service hotel in Frederick, Maryland. Throughout her career, Sarah has held several sales management positions, equipping her with the high level of experience she brings to SharCon and their hotel portfolio. Sarah fulfills dual roles at SharCon, overseeing group sales and E-Commerce – her primary focus. As Group Sales Manager for three SharCon properties, she concentrates on maintaining relationships with existing tour and travel clients, booking new business, and acting as liaison between hotel and client. Since joining SharCon Sarah has worked to increase the tour and travel market, where in 2013 she successfully achieved a 25% growth. In her role as E-Commerce/ Reputation Manager, Sarah oversees all aspects of social media including website, internet marketing and monitoring guest reviews on Trip Advisor, Expedia, Booking.com and other travel review sites. Sarah also strives to maintain the company's brand integrity by managing several of the hotels' direct and third party websites and online presence.
